

The screenshot displays an IDE with two main panels. The top panel shows the `application.properties` file for the `TrelloBackendApplication` project. The file contains the following configuration:

server.port=9001

spring.datasource.url=jdbc:mysql://localhost:3306/backend spring.datasource.username=root spring.datasource.password=root@166.

The bottom panel shows the application log output, which includes the following information:

- Spring Boot version: (v3.0.7)
- Log output showing the application starting successfully, including the initialization of the Spring context and the Tomcat web server.
- Log output showing the application running on port 9001.
